

Web-based DocConverter Solution

Diagram

Kaonsoft DocConverter & Viewer™ is architected to scale over multiple servers and parallel processors to handle simultaneous requests at once. Each conversion processor operates independently and is free from any intervention, thus maintaining a high rate of overall job completion.

It provides convenience by not requiring users to install third-party viewer apps on their mobile devices. Users do not have to wait until all pages are converted, as Kaonsoft DocConverter immediately converts and delivers each page for viewing on the fly.
